

Abergavenny – heritage, views and a vineyard too!

Start your day with a visit to Abergavenny's museum set in the grounds of a 'ruined' Norman Castle. In 1818, the present museum building was constructed on top of the motte as a hunting lodge for the Marquess of Abergavenny. Entrance is free as are the stunning views from the Castle of the Usk Valley and the Blorenge Mountain.

Enjoy a picnic in the grounds or walk to the town centre to find some lunch in one of the many cafe's and restaurants via the tranquil Linda Vista Gardens open to the public since 1963. The Gardens boast quite a number of rare and splendid trees, like the Foxglove tree. They include the 19th century formal gardens of Linda Vista House with their terraces of box hedging. There is also a lovely children's play bed with living willow tunnel. Another perfect picnic spot.

After lunch take the five minute drive out of town to the Sugarloaf Mountain car park. At 596 metres, the Sugarloaf is a baby compared to some of the peaks in the Brecon Beacons but its distinctive conical shape, makes it a prominent and much loved local landmark. The walk up to the summit is relatively easy, within the scope of people with average fitness – but the summit is very exposed – so don't be fooled by this baby and make sure you take suitable footwear and clothing. Although not tricky to find your way, you can choose a number of different routes so a map is a good idea.

If after the exertion lunch is but a distant memory – you could stop off at the Sugarloaf Vineyard on the way back to town for refreshments at their coffee shop. To complete the day you will be able to take a self guided tour through the vineyard and buy some excellent Welsh wine as a souvenir of your visit. Opening times and days vary with the seasons.
